Girl's Home to Seek Court Test in 60 Days

Wife Shot By Local Resident

A Sierra Madrean who shot his wife in a domestic quarrel will face charges of assault with a deadly weapon at 9 a.m. Friday in Santa Anita Municipal Court.

He is Stewart L. Klinedinst, 29, of 161 E. Montecito, charged by Monrovia police with shooting his wife in the left hip in a Monrovia motel.

Monrovia police said Klinedinst and his wife, Betty, have been separated for about seven months. The couple met Aug. 25 in a Monrovia bar, where Klinedinst asked his wife to drive him to his motel.

Following an argument, police said Klinedinst pulled a .32 caliber revolver and fired twice, one of the slugs hitting his wife in the hip. Klinedinst said he only pulled the weapon to frighten his wife and that it went off accidentally.

Mrs. Klinedinst was taken to Sierra Madre Hospital where she was questioned by Monrovia police Aug. 27. Later, her husband was charged with assault with a deadly weapon and released on bail of $1,000.

Mrs. Klinedinst was released from the hospital Aug. 27, apparently the victim of a minor flesh wound.

Quality Fish Market Open Sept. 18

On Sept. 18 Sierra Madre will welcome a new business enterprise when a longtime Sierra Madren, Lester Packard, will open Packard's Quality Fish Market at 14 W. Sierra Madre Blvd.

Mr. Packard has been an expert in the fish business for over 35 years. He has managed fish markets in the Los Angeles area and, until he was called into the Air Force in World War II, he owned and operated a large fish market in southwest Los Angeles. For the past seven years he has been in charge of Ralph's, Pasadena, fish market.

Mr. Packard says that he will handel top quality fresh fish, smoked and fresh water fish and, when they are in season, live lobsters cooked to order and freshly boiled shrimp.

He also will stock advice on how best to prepare your favorite fish. He is an excellent cook, his wife says.

Travel for Profit? Meet the Rosenes

By Marjorie Parker

Russ and Nita Rosene and small fry, Sandy and Chris, returned to Sierra Madre last week with the patina of Central American sunburn on their noses and an itinerary of pleasures and troubles that would stun a stay-at-home.

The Rosenes lived several years at 720 Skyland Dr., then moved north to Avila Beach and set off from there March 17 by car.

They had two Central American assignments: audio-visual film strips for Los Angeles City Schools; and a promotional assignment from "Ford Times."

"WE LOST TRACK of the miles we covered," Russ confessed. "We traveled Pan-American Highway as far as it goes, photographing all the way. Then we sold the car in Costa Rica and flew to Panama. From there we flew to Miami, on up the east coast to Canada and then to Detroit where we bought a new car and started back on another "Ford Times" assignment in the Grand Tetons."

Most memorable personal experience for the quartet was when both children, whose ages are 6 and 4, broke out with measles in Chichicastenango, Guatemala.

That, plus two flat tires the same day, might have discouraged hardier souls. But not the Rosenes. They have a backlog of travel in South America, Europe, two years with the American Friends Service Committee in Gaza, Palestine, and a famous Life Magazine spread of their hitch-hiking jaunt across the United States.

Incidentally, they met two bicycle riders, Inez and Fred Boler, who pedaled off from Los Angeles in October. The Rosenes met them in June on the Pan-American Highway and again, months later, mushing on through Costa Rica.

COSTA RICA. Russ declares to be the most forward moving of the countries they visited. He explained that in Central America one does not see the misery and starvation that face the poor in less gentle climes.

"People never suffer from cold there," he said. "And how can you starve when all kinds of tropical foods need only to be picked off the trees? But there is disease and there is apathy, personal and political, that makes progress slow."

All four are now back at Avila Beach where they are buying a home, enrolling in school and preparing to — guess what! Write a book and take a trip.

TANK BUSTER—Sierra Madre Leatherneck Pvt. Mike V. Dressman, 491 W. Montecito, prepares to load the deadly 3.5 rocket launcher while another 7th 75mm Anti-aircraft Artillery, Marine Corps Reserve, member sights in on the target during familiarization firing at Camp Elliott, Calif. Dressman learned that the hard hitting assault weapon is used to destroy tanks (it will penetrate 11 inches of steel), enemy bunkers and heavily fortified positions.

This, the 'Paus' That Refreshes

Mrs. Hazelle R. Paus, resident of Circle H Ranch at the end of Sturtevant, sadly reported this week to The News that all the goldfish in her well-stocked pond have been captured and eaten by coons.

The ring-tailed creatures apparently come down from the hills for water, and are delighted to find that an entree goes with the drink.

She does not plan to restock.

Local Youths Arrested Here For Drunkeness

Police arrested two local juveniles Monday on charges of drunkeness. The boys were picked up late in the afternoon in the area of Sunnyside and Grand View and brought in to the Police Department.

The District Attorney's office is seeking complaints from the parents against the person who allegedly bought the wine which the boys drank.

The youths will appear in Juvenile Court Sept. 21.

Storm Drain Work Ahead Of Schedule

Construction work on the Baldwin Ave. storm drain is ahead of schedule and should be completed by Dec. 3, the Army Corps of Engineers reported.

In a letter to Rep. Edgar W. Hiestand, 21st District congressman, Col. C. T. Newton said:

"The stages of construction provided in the contract have been changed at the request of the local property owners and Sierra Madre city offiicals to reduce . . . the inconvenience and isolation of local . . . business houses.

"The entire project is ahead of schedule, and efforts are being made to complete the project before the scheduled date of Nov. 1, 1957, with the cleanup by Dec. 3, 1957."

The report from Col. Newton came as a result of an inquiry to Rep. Hiestand from Tom Schwartz of the Sierra Madre Hardware Co.

Perry's Nine Cops Second

Perry's Nine, the softball team sponsored by Perry's Stationery and Gift Shop, took second place trophy last week in the Los Angeles County's Men's League.

Playing at Farnsworth Park in Altadena were Steve Nourse, manager, Warren Carlson, Wally Pelletier, Jack Frances, Bob Hanson, Wayne Perry, Sam Cannell, Bob Karlen, Tom Osieki, Bill Carlton, Doug Cox and Brice Thompson.

Pasadena to Beautify Boulevard Parkway

Good news for Hastings Ranch homeowners came last week from City Hall, when direcctors approved an $85,550 Park Department plan to beautify the old weed-choked Pacific Electric right-of-way which slices through the Ranch down the center of Sierra Madre Blvd.

The Sierra Madre News published a photograph just two weeks ago, pointing out the dangerous traffic conditions created by the unsightly growth of weeds in the strip.

Planting and grading plans call for improvements from Michillinda Blvd. to Riviera Drive. Beautification from Riviera Drive west to Victory Park must wait until Flood Control construction work there is completed.

Work on the project is expected to begin at once, with grading to be done first to bring the strip down to the road level of the divided highway. From Michillinda to 200 feet west of Hastings Ranch Road, the grade of the strip will be something like 10 per cent. This is to be planted with ground covers such as ivy, evergreen strawberries and ice plant.

Where the grade is less than 10 per cent, grass will be planted and, all along the island, clusters of trees, ornamental grasses and shrubs will give an informal park-like appearance, according to the plan.

The spot between Eugene Field School and the Jones Reservoir will be planted with pines and redwoods. Rocks and low-growing shrubs will be used along the cross-overs to prevent erosion, without interfering with motorists' vision, planners said.

Directors said the money for the project will come from the $11,000,000 bond issue voted last year by Pasadenans.

Vandals Hit Ranch Schools

Two Hastings Ranch schools were damaged Sunday night by vandals who destroyed records and sprayed nearly every room with a fire hose.

Destruction at Don Benito and Eugene Field Elementary Schools was estimated at $2,000.

At both schools, a fire hose had been used to spray water in the rooms. School records were scattered on the floor and soaked with mimeograph ink and water. The hose was left running in the basements and faucets were on in all the rooms, police said.

Firemen worked until early Monday to remove about 18 inches of water in the basement at Field School.

Damage was similar at Don Benito, with a chemical fire extinguisher being played on the walls there and on scattered records.

Gaylord E. Hold, 3725 Denair, told police he heard the sound of something breaking at Don Benito across from his home about 8 o'clock Sunday night and saw two young boys ride off the grounds on bicycles.

The boys, Hold said, appeared to be about 12 or 13 years old, dressed in blue jeans and tee shirts and riding English-type bicycles.

Entry was gained at both schools by forcing windows open.

L.A. County Band Conductor to Lead Performance

Arthur Babich, conductor of the Symphonic Band for Los Angeles City and County, will be guest conductor for the sixth summer band concert to be heard tomorrow evening at 8 in Sierra Madre City Park. Concerts are free and the public is invited.

Among numbers he will conduct will be one of Mr. Babich's own compositions, "Daughters of the Legion."

Other numbers to be heard under direction of regular conductor Walter R. Laursen will include the Overture to "Zampa," Sousa marches, "The Desert Song" and "Deep Purple."

GONE FISHING

Police Chief Gordon McMillan and Mrs. McMillan are on vacation until Sept. 27.

Have a Happy Well-Trained Rug—No, Dog

Tired of yelling "GET OFF THE RUG!" at the family dog? Then enroll him, rug and all, in the Santa Anita Dog Training Group which begins fall classes Monday, Sept. 9, at 7 p.m. in Arcadia County Park.

Sue Turnquist, who is in charge of training, says the classes are for all dogs, not just problem dogs. And she continues with the statement that "after training there is better understanding between owner and dog."

So when, after training, you yell, "GET OFF THE RUG!" at the family dog, he probably will respond amiably, "LOWER YOUR VOICE WHEN YOU BARK AT ME!"

Art Award Goes to Lucy Vane

An honored art award from the Northwest has just been bestowed on former Sierra Madren Lucy (Mrs. Frank) Vane, daughter-in-law of Mrs. Grace Vane, 220 E. Sierra Madre Blvd.

The Frye Museum of Seattle, Wash., last week awarded Mrs. Vane a $400 travel scholarship which will take her to Chicago and other Middle Western cities to establish a broader painting background.

Mrs. Vane, with her husband, Major Vane, and two sons, Terry and David, lived in Sierra Madre from 1947 until 1950. They moved to Seattle when Major Vane was named personnel director of Boeing Airplane Co.

The young artist entered Frye Museum art school in 1954, and hopes to become an illustrator of children's books. While in Sierra Madre she studied with Alfred James Dewey.

JOINS SEVENTH FLEET

Anthony G. Pascoe, seaman, USN, son of Mrs. Saline A. Pascoe, 373 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., is serving aboard the attack cargo ship USS Chara now a part of the U. S. Seventh Fleet. While in the Western Pacific the Chara is scheduled to visit the Japanese ports of Yokosuka, Sasebo, Kobe and Nagoya.

Right to Exist Here Is Basis of Suit

The legal right of the Bethany Home for Girls, 72 W. Alegria, to continue operating as a charitably endowed home for girls of broken families will go to court for adjudication within the next 60 days, its director, Miss Magaret Thomas, told some 40 members of the Co-Ordinating Council Tuesday night.

Three weeks ago the City Council, for the third time denied the Home a business license and informed its board of directors that:

The Home was operating in violation of the City Zoning Ordinance.

It must show within 60 days that it has a legal right to operate or the City will take steps to terminate its activities.

MISS THOMAS' basic contention to the right to operate lay in her argument that when Bethany Home negotited to purchase the property, a non-conforming use of the land already had been established and the new occupants were told they had one year to maintain that status, continuing the land and buildings in non-conforming use in an R-1 zone.

According to City officials, however, the Home was not established or occupied by the end of the required year, although remodeling may have been going on.

This most recent hassle over the Home is not accompanied by the protestations, petitions and bitterness which originally attended its application for a license to operate.

IN A DIRECT turn-about of feeling, members of Tuesday night's audience rose to speak enthusiastically of its maintenance and operation. Mrs. Randolph Wood and Miss Clara Sykes, both of whom had attended a recent open house at the Home, expressed hope that proper steps could be taken to continue operation of the organization.

Miss Thomas, a former Juvenile Hall teacher and counselor, said that the Home now maintains seven girls who are 16 years of age or older. As many as 10 or 11 have been in residence.

The Probation Department of Los Angeles County sends girls to the Home, she said, and she and probation officials confer on suitability. The court supports each girl placed there, she said. The Home itself is supported by charitable endowments.

Miss Thomas pointed out that the girls are not delinquents—"not bad girls, but insecure and unwanted girls taken by the court from unsuitable homes."

"BETHANY HOME," she continued, "seeks to establish a home atmosphere where our girls learn to live with one another, to give and take, and to go out into the world again as stable young women."

Referring again to the Home's anomalous legal position, Miss Thomas said that she would go to court to settle the threat that has lain over the group for the past two years.

"If we can establish our right to non-conforming use of the land, then we still must have the business license which the Council has not granted. But the business license would do us no good if the Zoning Ordinance restricts us from being there. It appears we must go to court for a final decision."

Nursery School to Open Doors Monday

The Sierra Madre Community Nursery School starts its fall semester Monday, Sept. 9, for 120 children who will attend on a two- or three-day-a-week basis.

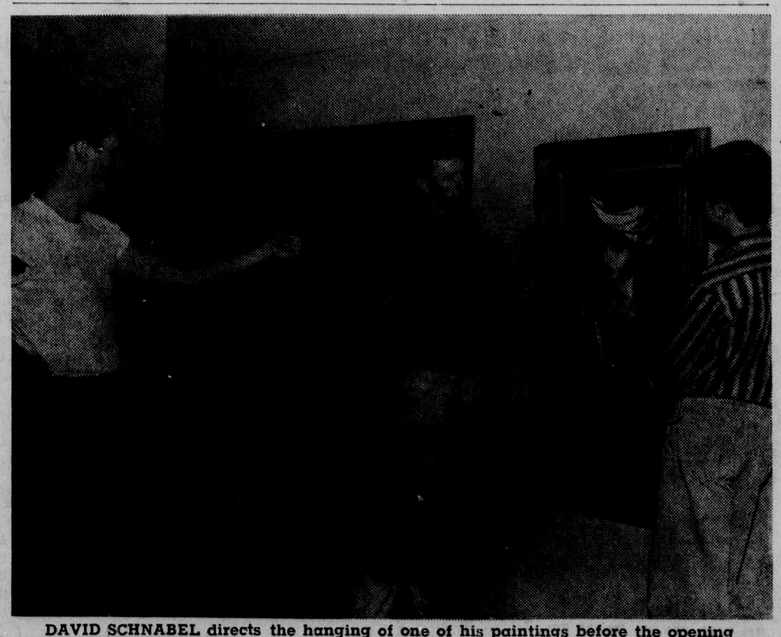

The staff again consists of Mrs. Marjorie Green, director; Mrs. Jeanne Dennis, school secretary, and head teachers Mrs. Eleanor Jacobs for Group I; Mrs. Janice Marugg for Group II, and Mrs. Pat Bush for Group III.

Two registered nurses, Mrs. Kathleen Shadforth and Mrs. Joanne O'Neill, are in charge of the children's health program.

Assistant teachers are chosen from qualified mothers who must enroll for the year in a training class offered by Pasadena City College at the nursery school.

Mothers who are assisting this year are: Group I, Mrs. John C. Gridley and Mrs. Rodney Winter; Group II, Mrs. George Tyree, Mrs. R. J. Reardon, Mrs. Carl Cheatle, Mrs. James Rogers and Mrs. Joseph Budnick; Group III, Mrs. Peter L. Lindley, Mrs. Lowell D. Jackson, Mrs. John Moe, Mrs. Robert Rence and Mrs. Nikolai Laushkin. All other mothers assist once a month.

A "Work Day" for fathers in August was devoted to a new room-size play house for Group II.

DAVID SCHNABEL directs the hanging of one of his paintings before the opening of his show at the Sierra Madre Library Community Room. The opening Sunday was well attended by area art lovers, many of whom expressed the opinion that Schnabel's work is among the best they have seen here in shows sponsored by the Friends of the Library. Helping Schnabel are John Carruthers and Tommy Benedict.

Arraignment Set For Mrs. Mellin On Drunk Charge

Mrs. Sallie L. Mellin, 43, of 3265 Las Lunas, Pasadena, was to be arraigned in Pasadena Municipal Court this morning on drunk driving charges following her arrest Saturday by local police.

According to police record, she was followed east and then west on Sierra Madre Blvd. until she stopped, five feet from the curb, in front of 537 W. Sierra Madre Blvd. A policewoman was summoned and she was booked in Pasadena, later going free on $250 bail.

Editorial

Oh, for a Dog's Life

Once upon a time there was a beautiful, silken haired dog who literally "led the life of Riley."

Riley, in fact, was the name of an English setter who has long since departed this world to roam the expansive meadows of dog heaven, with two unrestricted fire hydrants to every acre.

Riley is lucky, for the canines of this industrial world have only a fenced in patch of shale and a leash to look foreward to. Truely a dog's life is now a dog's life.

Man's so-called best friend must be imprisoned behind a stout fence. Or when strolling along the walk with a companion of the two-legged variety, he must be leashed. And in some places, muzzled.

He's not permitted to bark, growl, scratch or dig lest a dogless neighbor observe and summon the law. He can't chase cats, female friends or the ice wagon. Salesmen or others who make house-to-house calls now sometimes carry electric sticks from which the household pet gets a a big charge if he so much as sniffs at a trouser leg.

After years of romping in dogly fashion, Rover has discovered that it's unseemly to act like himself. He's now regarded as something of a menace, a dangerous creature that smells, makes noise, carries germs and knocks over little boys.

To survive, Rover must conform.

Dogs, it seems, are almost as bad off as humans. No wonder we both need Miltown. H.W.E.

Tax Cut Is Considered Certain for Next Year

By Edgar W. Heistand, Rep., 21st District

The fast pace before adjournment has left Congress little time for play. This is beginning to rankle some of the members, especially the younger ones whose wives and children had hopes of short vacations before the back-to-school trek started.

In such hectic days Congress is apt to rush through a lot of ill-considered legislation. Many of these last-minute bills are passed just to improve the record, so that Congress can escape the charge that it sat idle all year. Often such bills have to be repealed or amended the following year.

Fortunately it hasn't happened this year. Congress has deliberated carefully on almost every piece of legislation that has come up. The civil rights measure is the best example. It has been on and off the agenda of the House and Senate most of the summer, and the bill as it now stands is a far cry from the original measure that came before the House.

* * *

ONE PIECE of bad legislation that underwent the axe before it could become law was a section of the military public works bill. The section would have required approval by Congress before defense officials could terminate commercial and industrial-type activities.

I wrote about this briefly last week, mentioning that the House had passed it. However, the Senate wisely realized that the section was a roadblock to getting the government out of competition with its private, tax-paying citizens. The Senate knocked out Section 411, as it was known, and the House-Senate conference committee allowed it to die.

So far the Defense Department has discontinued or curtailed 324 activities out of 1,755 operations selected for detailed study. In addition, 161 other activities are earmarked to go as soon as orders are issued to close them.

Congress' killing Section 411 gives the Defense Department a way to make prompt decisions and get these businesses back into the hands of private individuals and companies where they should be. The businesses also will be on the tax rolls, paying money into the U.S. Treasury instead of taking it out.

* * *

ALONG THE same line, we note progress in carrying out President Eisenhower's recent order to curtail spending wherever possible and hold the line on next year's budget.

Top administration officials say that serious efforts are under way to slash spending as much as a billion dollars. And they really mean business.

Federal agency heads have been told to leave jobs unfilled when vacancies occur as the result of death, retirement or resignation. Job rolls, now totaling 2,285,211, cost the government about $1 billion a month, or about one-sixth of the national budget.

Eliminating jobs, of course, is the most certain way to save the government money.

But it's also the best way for an elected official to be booted out of office, and so a job-saving campaign never seems to last. This one could. Nobody's getting hurt directly and money is staying in the Treasury.

Tax cuts are now considered almost a sure thing for next year. Reducing the number of government jobs will pave the way for such cuts, while at the same time providing funds to pay deserving employes a fair salary.

* * *

THE HOUSE has just passed H.R. 8679, extending for one year Public Law 815 which provides federal aid for school construction in federally impacted areas. Such areas include the Antelope Valley, where the federal government has created the problem of inadequate schools by removing so much land from the local tax rolls.

This federal aid for schools measure is far different from the straight-out federal handouts that were proposed and defeated earlier in the House. In an impacted area the local residents have exhausted every possible means of financing their schools and the responsibility is clearly the federal government's. Many citizens are forced to live on federal land and work in federal installations.

Yet the "handout" measure will be up again next year.

THE NATION will celebrate Constitution Day on Sept. 17. I am proud to have introduced a measure in the House which called for this day to be set aside annually for paying tribute to the Constitution.

Breaking Into the Big League

Watch on the Potomac

By Robert G. Spivack

THE DISARMAMENT TALKS—a lot of people wonder if the world might not be a better place to live in if all the large nations were to scrap their armaments and, in effect, "beat their swords into ploughshares."

I have heard any number of people ask over a drink or at dinner what good it does to build up inter-continental missiles only to learn shortly afterwards that the Russians have built something else which makes our military hardware outmoded.

There are many people who think this govenment doesn't seriously contemplate disarmament no matter what the Russians do. And there are probably a lot of people in Russia who feel their government keeps concentrating on arms, instead of consumer goods, because it must keep up the bogey of American "warmongering."

There is probably a lot of phoney talk on both sides. It's called "diplomatic bargaining." But in all the talk during the London negotiations and later one point seems to have been overlooked. This government has shifted its position.

We now appear to agree that disarmament can and should precede political settlements in Europe and other areas. Until the beginning of 1957 Secretary Dulles took the exactly opposite view.

* * *

WHAT IT'S ALL ABOUT—Disarmament talks are by their very nature the kind of thing that must be conducted behind closed doors. Otherwise all we'd get would be a lot of speeches for propaganda purposes.

Also, to be utterly realistic about it, if Harold Stassen, the President's disarmament adviser, talks about it too much he might find some of his jealous State Department associates knifing him. In fact there was one period when it looked like the major disarmament problem was disarming Dulles.

Sen Javits (R.-N.Y.) has come along with some suggestions that seem to make sense in this maze of words and arguments. He proposes four items that he believes are "worthy of inclusion and practically attainable in the disarmament talks.

This is the Javits program:

1. Establishment of a UN Peace Force, somewhat like that UN Emergency Force now stationed on the boundary lines between Egypt and Israel. (This was one of Adlai Stevenson's suggestions, too.)

2. Ending use of the veto in the UN on questions of membership and settlement of disputes by pacific means.

3. Enlarging the jurisdiction of the World Court.

4. Widening UN powers to consider "threats to peace" in colonial areas between the colonial populace and the administering power. (He is thinking particularly of the Algerian dispute.)

* * *

MAYBE WE'LL get nowhere with the disarmament talks. One acquaintance tells me they remind him of two young ladies who were talking. "Does your husband expect you to obey him," the first asked.

"Oh, no," answered the second, "he's been married before."

But that sort of despair will get us nowhere. It's like the question asked of the old bachelor. A friend wanted to know why he had never married.

"Well, you see," the bachelor answered, "when I was quite young I resolved I wouldn't marry until I found the ideal woman. After many years I found her—but she was looking for the ideal man."

Around the Square

By Marjorie Parker

September — the month when Californians have to hold fast to love of their land, for now is an unbeautiful month. Drier and drier we grow, shabbier our pretense that we live in an oasis.

Each day the chaparral and oaks and the bone dry earth remind us that this was desert before, and, if we take our fingers off our water faucets, desert again.

But now the East and Middle West come into a time of splendor as magnificent as its calendar opposite, spring.

The last blackberries are warm on reddening briars. Sumac is barely turning, but within weeks the maples will shatter with color and the beeches stand like lit candles in the evergreens and sheaves of dogwood.

And in the north the aspens begin a golden tremble against the stands of hemlock and spruce, fir and pine.

Anybody for a walk in the woods?

DAVID SCHNABEL'S show at the Library Gallery is one of the best the Exhibits Committee has put on. David has taught a lot of Sierra Madreans and most of them turned up for the reception. The crowd was so good the committee chairman was reduced to rinsing out paper cups for punch drinkers.

Lee Shippey asks What Do You Think?

It hurt us Shippeys to leave Sierra Madre. Thirty years of happiness had filled our home with countless memories. Every time a book of mine was published we made some improvement to it, adding a room, putting on a new roof or doing something like that Every bush, tree and blade of grass had been put there by us, and many of the roses and other plants were gifts of friends. Those we have brought to Del Mar with us, and we hope before long to have a garden here which will be full of reminders of dear friends in Sierra Madre.

MOVING from a comparatively big house into a small one is a good deal like changing from a comparatively ample income to a small one—you have to adjust almost as painfully as a 200-pound lady trying to get into the corset she wore 40 years ago.

We gave away quite a lot of things before we left, but when it came to unloading we wished we had given a lot more. When the house here seemed full to the rafters there was still more out in the yard. One can accumulate so much junk in 30 years that he never dreams how much until he has to move it.

Then one wishes he had lived like the cook in the galley of a small ship, with all the essentials but none of the nonessentials. Before coming here we vowed we must have a fireplace. Now we're almost joyous because we havn't one, for it would only make us do without things we now realize mean much more to us. Thus a lifetime of tradition goes out the window in an emergency.

* * *

WE SHALL never forget the kindness of Sierra Madre friends and the wonderful farewell the Chamber of Commerce gave me while the St. Catherine's Guild was doing the same for my wife. But those things would only have added to the pain of parting if it hadn't been for what has happened here.

Between 30 and 35 years ago four of our children were born while we lived here, and our sons and our son-in-law have done a great part of the remodeling of our cottage here, so that affection and loyalty are built into it. They have given so much time and thought and effort making us happy here that if their wives hadn't been among the most generous and self-sacrificing girls alive they would have wished to poison us for taking them away so much. But instead they, too, pitched in and brought out picnic hampers every weekend. It will be a wonderful thing to live in a house not wholly made with hands but largely with hearts.

People who can easily pay any price say:
"Pay more...what for? Ford's the buy!"
Why? Because this 1957 Ford gives you the advanced features, the solid ride, the effortless handling that you once expected to find only in expensive cars. And when it comes to looks, where can you find fresher styling than in the sculptured-in-steel lines of this new Ford?
Ford's superiority is evident in many places. In the vital rear axle, the pinion gear that turns the rear wheels is straddle-mounted . . . supported between two anti-friction bearings instead of being "overhung" from a single bearing. This makes operation quieter, smoother and longer-lasting. It's a feature that Ford shares with only one other car maker in the world—Rolls Royce.
Or consider Ford's famous V-8 engine. No other manufacturer in the industry today electronically balances every V-8 engine, while operating under its own power, the way that Ford does. This means you get a smoother-running engine—the finest V-8 in Ford's 25 years of V-8 leadership.
These are only a few of the important hidden values that are yours in Ford. But they indicate why so many people who can pay almost any price for a car—people who have driven expensive cars for years—are buying Ford today. Action Test this great performing car at your Ford Dealer's just once and you, too, will ask, "Pay more . . . what for?"
YOU CAN SPEND HUNDREDS MORE . . . BUT YOU CAN'T BUY BETTER THAN THE NEW KIND OF FORD

Pizza, Spaghetti Favorites Of Mrs. L. R. Bonney

By Toni Maurin
SYcamore 7-9634

I have had several requests for a good spaghetti recipe and I thought immediately of Mrs. Lawrence R. (Emma) Bonney of 528 Ramona. When you walk into her kitchen the tantalizing aroma of Italian food is enough to make your mouth water.

She was reluctant to give me her recipes, because, she said, that tastes vary greatly in the usage of spices. I assured her that everyone could adjust that portion of her dishes to suit themselves.

MEAT BALLS

(Will serve about eight)
2 lbs. ground meat (beef)
¼ cup grated cheese
½ medium onion
1 tbs. fresh parsley
Salt and pepper to taste
6 slices white bread
2 eggs
1 clove garlic
1 tbs. oregano (more or less

To the ground meat add eggs and the bread that has been wet well with water to soften and then squeezed out, onions, garlic and parsley, chopped fine, cheese and spices. Mix thoroughly and then form into balls. Cook in heavy skillet until brown on all sides and set aside.

SPAGHETTI SAUCE

½ cup olive oil, salad oil or meat dippings
1 medium onion chopped
1 tbs. parsley chopped
4 cans tomato paste
Salt and pepper to taste
1 clove of garlic chopped
1 or 2 tbs. oregano (more or less)
2 cans tomato sauce
Water

Saute onions, garlic, oregano and parsley in olive oil until golden brown and transparent (watch carefully as it burns easily). Add salt and pepper and tomato sauce and paste. Add equal parts of water as tomato sauce and paste. Allow this to simmer at a low heat for about four hours, adding additional water as it cooks down. When completed it should be as thick as undiluted canned soup.

Fifteen minutes before serving, or about the time you put the hot water on to cook the pastes, add the meatballs to the sauce and heat them up. Serve immediately and expect the family to come back for seconds.

FOR VARIATION, Mrs. Bonney frequently uses Italian hot sausage sliced thin instead of the meatballs. She also heats these in the spaghetti sauce about 15 minutes before serving.

PIZZA

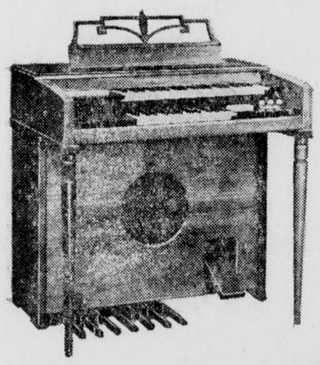

For her pizza dough, she uses a one loaf white yeast bread dough recipe which she rolls thin on a floured board and puts in a greased and floured pizza pan making sure to have a rolled pie edging. She spreads her dough in the pan with about three tablespoons of olive oil.

On this she cuts up about four Italian sausages real thin and arranges them over the pizza. She also cuts up about ¼ lb. of Mozzarella cheese and arranges it on the pizza. Over all of this she crumbles about a tablespoon of oregano over whole pie and pours two cans of tomato sauce over the top. She bakes in a preheated 450°F. oven for about 15 minutes till crust is golden brown. If pizza is made in advance it must be kept in the refrigerator to prevent dough from rising.

Mrs. D. W. Schafer has been elected to fill the office of chairman 1957-1958, for Foothill Branch, Woman's

Mrs. D. W. Schafer

Auxiliary to the Los Angeles County Medical Association.

When asked what her objective was for her term as chairman, she replied:

"Since we are the newest branch of the Woman's Auxiliary to Los Angeles County Medical Association my aim is to get more doctors' wives interested in our work so that we can be better able to help our doctor husbands bring better medicine to this area."

As Mrs. Schafer does have her R.N. degree in nursing, she feels that the auxiliary is helping to serve the public, as well as the doctors, through its help to future nurses clubs in the high schools of this area. At present, the auxiliary is offering its assistance to clubs in 14 high schools.

The Schafer family lives in Arcadia and has two children who have kept their parents involved in Parent-Teachers Association, Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts.

Mrs. Schafer, in addition to her year as chairman-elect, has served her branch of the auxiliary as treasurer.

On Friday, Sept. 6, the membership committee of Foothill Branch is meeting to complete plans for the annual membership brunch Sept. 19 in Covina.

HEARTY SALADS FOR SUMMER SUPPERS

Hearty salads of potatoes, macaroni or rice are fine additions to summer supper menus. They go well with barbecued meats from the patio grill or with meats that you cook quickly and easily on your gas range broiler.

Make the salad early in the day so it may be thoroughly chilled. Complete the menu with steaming corn on the cob, a tray of crisp relish vegetables (carrot and celery sticks, green onions, etc.) bread and butter and a beverage. Then serve fruit or melon for dessert.

Your supper will be wholesome and satisfying—and mighty easy to make.

FINE POTATO SALAD
- 4 med.-sized potatoes
- 3 Tbsp. tart French dressing
- ¾ tsp. salt
- ⅛ tsp. pepper
- 1 C. grated raw carrots
- ½ C. diced celery
- 2 hard-cooked eggs, diced
- ¼ C. chopped sweet pickle
- 2 Tbsp. minced onion
- Mayonnaise or Salad Dressing

Cook potatoes in jackets. Peel and dice as soon as potatoes are cool enough to handle. Add French dressing, salt and pepper to warm potatoes and toss gently. Cool. Add remaining ingredients, using enough mayonnaise or salad dressing to moisten. Chill several hours before serving.

Optional additions or variations for potato salad: Sliced radishes, cucumber cubes, chopped almonds, olives, minced parsley, crumbled crisp bacon, cooked green peas.

FIESTA MACARONI SALAD
- 1 C. salad macaroni
- 3 Tbsp. salad oil
- 1 Tbsp. vinegar
- ½ tsp. salt
- ¼ tsp. pepper
- ½ C. sliced ripe olives
- 1 med. cucumber, diced
- ¾ C. thinly sliced celery
- ¼ C. diced sweet pickle
- ¼ C. pimiento, cut in strips
- 2 green onions, chopped
- Mayonnaise

Cook macaroni until tender in boiling salted water. Drain. Add oil, vinegar, salt and pepper to warm macaroni and toss lightly to mix. Let cool thoroughly. Add remaining ingredients, using enough mayonnaise to moisten. Check seasonings and add more salt and pepper if needed. Chill thoroughly before serving.

For variety, add slivers of ham or luncheon meat, thinly sliced frankfurters or cubes of nippy cheese to macaroni salad.

CURRIED RICE SALAD
- ¼ C. tart French dressing
- 4 C. cooked rice
- 1 C. thinly sliced celery
- 1 C. cooked green peas
- ¾ tsp. curry powder
- ½ tsp. salt
- ⅛ tsp. pepper
- ½ tsp. dry mustard
- 1 Tbsp. minced onion
- ¾ C. mayonnaise

Add French dressing to rice while it is still warm and toss lightly to mix. Cool. Add celery and peas. Combine seasonings in a small bowl and mix in minced onion and mayonnaise. Add dressing to rice and vegetables and toss to mix. Chill and serve on crisp lettuce.

New Church to Open Sunday School in October

Sunday School will begin in October in the new United Lutheran Church, according to the Rev. Ray E. Hansen, pastor, who is organizing the new congregation in this community.

The Sunday School classes will be formed at a Rally Day service to be held a few weeks after the first church worship early in October. Each child attending will receive a special gift as a remembrance of the first Sunday School service in the mission.

The Sunday School will meet in the newly-remodeled Woman's Clubhouse, 270 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., where worship services also will take place.

"Many boys and girls and youths whom I have met in the community are looking forward to coming to Sunday School," Pastor Hansen said. "We welcome all those who desire to come. It appears we will have a large group of children and young people, and there also is a desire for an adult group to gather for Bible study during the Sunday School hour."

The new Lutheran pastor and his family returned early last week from Las Vegas, Nev., where he preached at the Lutheran Church of the Reformation last Sunday during the vacation of the regular minister there.

SUNDAY SERMON

"Appreciate Yourself" will be the subject of the Sunday service, Sept. 8, at 11 a.m. by Dr. Ethel Barnhart, at the Santa Anita Church of Religious Science, 778 S. Rosemead Blvd., Pasadena.

LUTHERAN MISSION BELL

One of the greatest joys on earth is found in the Sunday school, where the little tykes, boys and girls, youths, teenagers, young adults, married folks and those in their sunset years can gather to worship our Lord and to learn the Christian way of life from the Bible. From all indications, we are anxious to begin.

The Sunday school will start in October, a few weeks after we have our first church worship service in the Woman's Clubhouse early in October. Sunday school not only gives all a golden opportunity to enjoy singing hymns, praying together and worshiping God, but it affords the chance for many to teach His holy Word and apply it to the lives of those who come to hear it. Most Sunday school teachers we know admit that they learn as much by teaching as do their classes. We will have excellent materials, teaching aids and training for all of our teachers. Handling these precious classes will not only be easy, but a joy and source of real satisfaction for everyone.

Best of all, Sunday school gives us our opportunity to carry out Christ's loving request: "Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not, for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven."

THOUGHT FOR TODAY — While our Lord was speaking about his approaching Cross, his disciples were selfishly asking, "Who is the greatest in the Kingdom of Heaven?" So our Lord set a child in their midst as a text and preached to them and to us a sermon on true greatness. Unless they became as little children they would not even get into the Kingdom. Humility is the way to true greatness. "Whoever humbles himself like this child, he is the greatest in the Kingdom of Heaven."

The Kingdom is child centered. Receive a child and you receive Christ! Cause a child to stumble and subject yourself to the severest of all judgments. Despise no child, for its angel beholds the face of the Father in Heaven. Read Matthew 18: 2, 3.

Yours Faithfully,
REV. RAY E. HANSEN
United Lutheran Pastor

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wolff of Pasadena will be the hosts at the Oneg Shabbath following the services, in honor of their son's Bar Mitzvah.

Saturday morning services will start at 9 o'clock. Rabbi Steckel and Cantor Blumenthal will officiate.

Minister Comes Home to Preach On Coming Home

Dr. Chilton C. McPheeters returns to the pulpit of the Sierra Madre Methodist Church this Sunday with an appropriate sermon entitled, "The Fine Art of Coming Home."

He left Sierra Madre August 1 with Mrs. McPheeters and their three children for a month in the East. They visited in Nashville, Tenn., with Dr. McPheeters' sister and then went north to Lake Champlain for a reunion with Mrs. McPheeters' family.

Fall, Winter Programs Set

A full program of activity for the fall and winter months has been launched at Bethany Church. Dr. Robert Schaper will preach at both the morning and evening service this coming Sunday.

The topic for the morning will be "The Unique Man,"—the start of a series of messages on the Book of Job. In the evening he will preach on "Load Limit."

The Bethany Church Choir will be heard again at both services Sunday, after a vacation of five weeks. The musical renditions of this group, under the direction of Mrs. Schaper, have been an inspiring part of the church worship.

There will be a reception for Dr. and Mrs. Schaper in Fellowship Hall following the evening service. This will not only mark their return from summer vacation, but the completion of four years of ministry at the church.

Bethany Church's championship baseball team will play the team from Glendale Presbyterian Church next Monday evening. The game will be the occasion also of a combined social for both churches, consisting of an evening of swimming, games, singing and refreshments.

Glendale Presbyterian Church has invited the young people's groups of Bethany, both high school and college, to join them in an evening of fellowship and recreation. The game will start at 7:15 in Glendale.

GONE NORTH

Mrs. L. L. Rice, 250 W. Highland, left this week for her annual jaunt up the coast to Sprague River, Oregon. She will visit relatives on the way, fish when she gets there, and return in a month.

NOTICE OF PROPOSED CHANGE OF BOUNDARY OR CLASSIFICATION

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN pursuant to the provisions of Ordinance No. 558, as amended, of the City of Sierra Madre, that the Planning Commission of the City of Sierra Madre has fixed Thursday, September 19, 1957, at the hour of 8:00 o'clock P.M. in the Council Chambers in the City Hall, 55 West Sierra Madre Blvd., Sierra Madre, California, as the time and place for holding a public hearing for a reclassification from R-1 to R-3 of property described as Lots 18, 19, 20 and 21 and portions of Lots 22, 23, 24, 25 of Canon Tract, further described as the south side of Sturtevant Drive easterly approximately 800 feet from Mountain Trail Avenue.

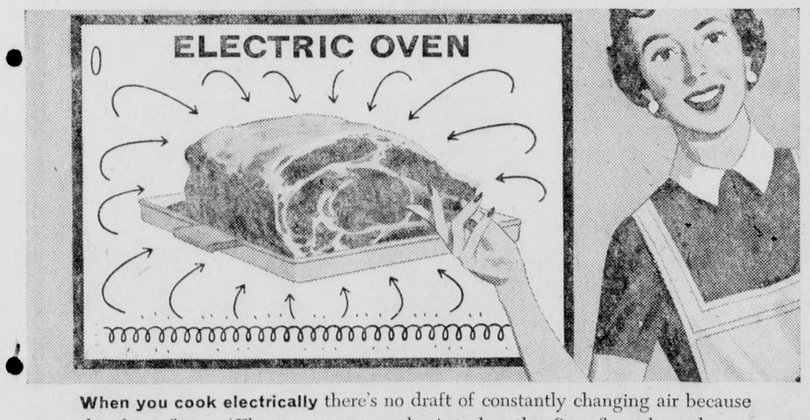

The application for said amendment to Ordinance No. 558 is based upon the grounds that there are special circumstances attached to said property which generally do not apply to other properties in the same district and vicinity; that the granting of a zone change as aforesaid will not result in a material damage or prejudice of other property nor be detrimental to the public welfare or injurious to persons in the vicinity thereof.

Electric cooking keeps more juice in meat—because it's flameless!

When you cook electrically there's no draft of constantly changing air because there's no flame. (Flame, you see, needs air to breathe. So a flame-heated oven constantly inhales dry air, exhales moist air—literally cooks meat in a hot draft that evaporates good juices.) In an electric oven there's no draft of dry air. You cook with moist heat. As a result, more juice stays in the meat... and the meat tastes better.

Electric cooking is far cooler, too. As much as 16° cooler. The reason is obvious: electric cooking puts the heat directly into the food, not into the room. Electric cooking is cleaner, too, because it's flameless. There are no by-products of combustion to dirty walls and darken your bright pans. Truly, it's the only modern way to cook. Why not see your appliance dealer for a demonstration of the new electric ranges?

FIRE FLAMES

By James Heasley

The national loss for the year 1956 was estimated at $989,290,000. Aren't we lucky? Not much of that enormous figure was charged to Sierra Madre. Let's be thankful. That assures us that somewhere along the line, our residents are being careful. In order to do this, our homes and few factories must be watched closely by someone on the alert for fire dangers.

You can get convient forms for checking your homes or factories by calling the Fire Department at any time. These forms will give a very good idea as to the many causes of fires. And while you are waiting for a form, we'll tell you that matches and smoking are the reasons for the most calls, while misuse of electricity appears to be the most expensive. There are various causes of fire, too many to put down here.

Why not give us a call and play the game of learning the dangers of fire? Fire Prevention week is coming up soon and why not make an impression?

There is a great deal that can be said about how to prevent fires and we know that by the time you have read this far, half the readers skip the rest, so you few who are so faithful and who insist on keeping premises clear of rubbish and hazardous materials, can lay claim to being instrumental in sustaining our very good, low fire loss record. And believe me, the men of the Fire Department are grateful.

THE SCOTMAN asked the banker for the loan of $10 and was told that he would have to pay four per cent interest at the end of the year.

"That's 40 cents isn't it?"

"That's right," said the banker, "and what can you give us for security?"

"Twenty-five thousand dollars in savings bonds," said the Scot.

The bank accepted the bonds and gave him $10. At the end of the year, the Scoot was back with $10 and 40 cents and asked the return of his bonds.

As the banker handed them over, he asked:

"Why, with all these bonds, did you have to borrow $10?"

"Well," said the Scot, "do you know any other way I can get a safety deposit vault for 40 cents?"

"Why can't you behave like that good little girl next door?" asked the harassed mother.

"She's a doctor's kid," came the reply. "He always keeps the best ones for himself."

Area School Holds Meet

An informal meeting will be held this evening to introduce interested parents to the workings of the Arcadia Non-Profit Nursery School, a cooperative pre-school. The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. at the school building, located at 1511 South Tenth Avenue, Arcadia.

The school serves residents of El Monte, Temple City, Sierra Madre, Monrovia, and Arcadia. All parents with pre-school children 2½ to 5 years of age are urged to attend.

Mrs. John Burtt Jr., assistant director of the Pacific Oaks Friends School, training school for nursery school teachers, and former director of the Arcadia Non-Profit Nursery School will discuss the benefits of pre-school experience for children, and the particular advantages of a cooperative nursery school. Further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Clayton Skoug, membership chairman, Gilbert 4-4335.

VILLA VIEWS

By Toni Maurin
SYcamore 7-9634

While talking with a friend the other day we naturally turned to the subject of children and all of the activities in which they participate. I got to thinking about the extra curricular lessons that we offer them, such as dancing and music, art and ice skating, skiing and swimming, and countless other interests which we think they would like.

My friend said, and as I thought about it I realized what good sense it made, "I have quit forcing my children to practice and take lessons that I would have liked to have had myself. Now I encourage them to enjoy whatever they participate in so that in later life it will be useful to them."

"She also said that since she quit pushing all of the lessons on her children, they desire them all the more and are showing such an active interest and there is no longer a struggle. When they cease to be interested she stops the lessons.

We sometimes forget that even though they are children and may not have the judgment of their parents, they are still individuals with minds of their own that should be guided but not sublimated.

DR. AND MRS. Clete Dorsey and their son, Steve, of 3390 Fairpoint spent Thursday through Monday vacationing at Balboa Island. They had Mrs. Dorsey's brother, Richard Schreiner, with them while they were there.

MR. AND MRS. D. K. Anderson of 1900 Sierra Madre Villa gave a dinner party recently to introduce new neighbors around. They had a barbecue chicken dinner, a swim and danced later on by the outside fireplace. The new neighbors were Mr. and Mrs. Stuart McFarland and Mr. and Mrs. George Stevenson. The other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Peter K. Farley and Mr. and Mrs. William Rittenhouse.

* * *

ABOUT THE new people, the Stuart McFarlands are at 1812 Sierra Madre Villa and have two children, Stuart, 4, and Stevie, 2. They moved from the Hastings Ranch section. Mr. McFarland is a life underwriter with Manufacturers Life in Pasadena. The George A. Stevensons are at 1830 Sierra Madre Villa. They have one little 7-month-old daughter, Kathryn Lynn. They moved here from Riviera Drive in Pasadena. Mr. Stevenson has the George Stevenson Machine Co. in Burbank. They make precision parts for other companies.

OLD HOUSE ROAD is enthusiastically preparing for its annual street dance as people pour back into the neighborhood from vacations. The Larry Garlands are back home with their two children after three delightful weeks at Lake Tahoe's Meeks Bay. The John Chapmans are back from four days up that way and then two days at Lake Arrowhead with the children. The Dr. Robert Muellers spent two weeks absorbing the sun and fun at Balboa Island with their two children. The Joseph Philipsons spent 12 days with their two oldest children, David and Alice, up Yosemite way. They packed into the back country for part of the time and ended up resting their weary muscles at the Yosemite Lodge. The Meyer Goldsteins, Amy's parents, left for their home in the East before the family returned. The George Holmes spent their long weekend taking a trip to Catalina with their children on their newly acquired boat. Also boating were the Joseph Phelps. The Sam Matloffs entertained their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Gorss, and their son, Michael, who visited them from Phoenix, Ariz.

ON FAIRPOINT, the Aikman Armstrong family is now home from Michigan minus their beautiful California suntan. They spent a month with some of the Armstrong clan. The E. Marshall Harris family came back a little early from a nine-day camping trip at Lake Isabella in Kern County, and the W. F. McComas family is back from their jaunt to Twin Lakes.

LAFF OF THE WEEK

"No, I haven't grown so much—I'm standing on my brother."

Hastings Teen Times

By Pat Smith
ELgin 5-1903

Hi! Just think, only 10 more days of vacation. Oh, what a morbid thought. It sure doesn't seem possible that the summer has gone past already. I hope everyone has had a wonderful time doing the things they like to do most.

Lots of kids have gone to the beach—Bal, Newport, Corona del Mar, Laguna and many others. Still others have gone to the mountains or the desert or maybe went out of city or state to visit friends and relatives or to just "rubber neck." And, of course, there are those who spent the summer working.

At any rate, all of the loafing and sleeping in late will be over in 10 days with a few regrets, but it will be great to get back to see all our friends.

One of the good points about school, besides seeing everyone again, is it always gives you something to talk about. The cute guy on the football team or that cute girl over there, the teachers and all the homework, clothes and cars.

Some kids are having fun to the very last day. I mean, everyone is, I hope.

* * *

PRISSY WATSON has had a full summer. First she went to summer school, to the beach for three or four days, then to San Francisco for a week and is now looking forward to a trip by plane to Chicago.

* * *

CAROLYN AND MALINDA Howell spent the last two weekends in their new boat. The first weekend they took it to Long Beach where they put it in the water for the first time. Last weekend they took it to Lake Piru where they enjoyed a day of waterskiing.

They just love the new boat and hope to have many good times with it.

It was to the beach for Mary Lee Peterson, Bonnie Buckle, Hilda Goin, Meredith Mitchell, Joan Lanchore and Charlene Pierson this week.

* * *

LARRY FAIRCHILD spent about a week up the coast at Monterey.

* * *

NORMAN KREMILLER has been some time in Sacramento visiting Donny Beattie. Donny used to live in the Ranch.

JACK GREGORY is spending a week with Forrest Switzer at Newport.

DIANNE VANIMAN and her family are in Montana visiting relatives.

CATALINA VISIT

Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Donaldson, 965 Riviera Dr., and their three children, Barbara, Bruce and Brian, boarded a yacht last Friday and enjoyed the long week end at Santa Catalina Island.

New Rubbish Pickups Start October 1

After Oct. 1, Pasadenans will find an additional $1.50 a month added to their water and electric bills to provide for combustible rubbish pickup. Backyard incinerators are banned throughout Los Angeles county as of that date.

In providing for the collection, the Board of Directors announced that crews will pick up rubbish from backyards to a maximum of 70 gallons of burnable rubbish a week.

Property owners are expected to provide their own containers, with the suggestion that two 35-gallon drums be used. A receptacle may be no larger than 50 gallons and should have both cover and handles.

Receptacles are to be kept covered and be as readily accessible to the driveway or street as is practicable.

A maximum fine of $500 or a maximum six months in jail or both are provided for failure to comply with the requirements.

To begin bookkeeping for the service, bills invoiced before the period Nov. 1 through Nov 15 will not carry the complete rubbish collection charges, and those from Nov. 15 to Nov. 30 will carry one and one-half times the monthly charge. Those after Dec. 1 will carry a two-months charge. After Dec. 1, fractions of months will be billed at the rate of 5 cents a day.

Non-combustible rubbish and garbage will be picked up on the present schedule, but officials stressed the three must be deposited in separate containers. Burnable rubbish is expected to be disposed of in the city incinerator, the enlargement of which is expected early in 1958.

Until the incinerator is completed, the city is making plans to haul away extra rubbish.

Poolers Home From Island Vacation Trip

Home from Honolulu are the Russell Poolers and son, Rusty, with only a couple of cases of Asian flu to mar their enviable three weeks' vacation.

The trio sailed to the Islands aboard the Matsonia and flew home. And here no pun is intended, but both Mr. Pooler and Rusty brought the flu home. They are on the mend now, and at last report Mrs. Pooler was still holding out against the "bug."

Whittier Dam Good Fun Spot for Small Fry

By Charles Ayres

Sometimes those who control our political destiny do something downright good, be it by accident or monetary inspiration.

An example of this beneficial enlightenment can be found less than 10 miles straight south on Rosemead Blvd. There, a sight uncommon in our modern suburbia unfolds as the U.S. government and Los Angeles County joined hands and deaf ears to the tract builders and are blowing acres of land for a huge recreation area.

This area, to be known as the Whittier Narrows Dam Recreation Area, is to have a dam, a golf course, grass and tables for picnic and lakes for fishing boating and swimming, protected by a battery of Nikes on the north end.

SO FAR the area contains a dam, an acre of grass, three or four picnic tables, large fresh water lake for fishing and several hundred signs.

Being a parent of a couple of male small fry with a momentary but insatiable appetite for fishing (undoubtedly born from my tall tales of the old fishing hole during the days of by own misspent youth), as a defensive measure, I finally agreed to buck the traffic and head south.

What I found there was enough to ease the pain of finding the lake-naming had been used to petpetuate a local politician.

The lake has been stocked with bass, trout, bluegill, and more recently, catfish. Anyone is allowed to fish there and if you are under 16 no license is required. The lake is open from June 15 to Dec. 31 on Saturdays, Sundays, Wednesdays and holidays.

NO SPECIAL fishing gear is needed and a line with a bent pin on the end has been known to be adequate. Kids of all sizes and descriptions have a ball catching their limit of two, even though the largest is only six inches.

A lifeguard and other county employes are on hand to see that no one falls in and that order is maintained.

The landscaping is mighty good too, providing well placed trees for restful observance.

Pasadena Pops Concerts Begin Tomorrow Night

The Pasadena Pops Concerts are beginning their fiifth season at Santa Anita Turf Club in Arcadia tomorrow evening. David Rose will conduct his 55-piece orchestra with famed "Boston Pops" Arthur Fiedler sharing honors as guest conductor in his only Southern California appearance.

Donalds Visit Russian River

Mr. and Mrs. Edward O. Donald, 1205 Tropical, and their daughters, Joan and Susan, have returned from a three-week vacation in Northern California.

The better part of their time was spent at the Russian River summer home of Mrs. Donald's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Vestal of Berkeley.

They also had a visit with Mr. Donald's parents, Dr. and Mrs. William G. Donald Sr., and his brother and sister-in law, the William G. Donald Jrs., all of Berkeley.

Jacobson Family Home From North

Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Jacobson, 1225 Tropical, and their children, Peter and Cathy, arrived home last Sunday from a three-week vacation in Northern California.

Part of their time was spent visiting Mrs. Jacobson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. McDuffee, in their Piedmont home.

A week also was enjoyed at Fallen Leaf Lake.

G. A. Schuleters Return Home

The George A. Schlueters, 1235 Tropical, their son, Greg, and French poodle, Suzie, returned last Sunday from a three-week holiday.

Before motoring up the Redwood Highway to Oregon, they enjoyed a stay at Carmel and Oakland where they visited Mrs. Schlueter's mother, Mrs. Mary Skinner.

They made the trip south by way of Lake Tahoe.

Toastmasters Meet at Mayo Home

Ed Mayo played host to a record assemblage of 34 members of Sierra Madre Toastmasters Club last Wednesday night.

Chef laureate Frank Dow Wright served an "out-of-this-world" Chateaubriand, avec mushroom sauce, casserole of crookneck squash (it was the sharp cheddar cheese that made this dish outstanding), cucumbers en sour cream and parsleyed potatoes.

A dip in the pool and refreshments served before dinner whet the appetites of all for the exceptional cuisine and the "serious" speeches which followed.

The host was awarded the best speaker's trophy of the evening for his speech, "How to Alienate People and Lose Friends." It was a 6-minute, 40-second dissertation for the "how not to do it" doers.

Guests for the evening included Ronnie Merrit, founder and past president of the club.

Mr. Merrit presented an impromptu speech on "What Toastmasters Has Done for Me."

Other speakers were Paul Gross, Jim Vine and Bill Petit.

PRIZE PRODUCTS OF THE SOUTHLAND — Pretty girls and luscious fruits go hand in hand in spreading the name and fame of Southern California. Both will predominate at the 30th annual Los Angeles County Fair in Pomona Sept. 13-29. Divided into 20 major shows, the exposition will offer the greatest pageant of achievement in its history before an exciting background of spectacular entertainment, colorful special days and sparkling nights. Here Fair Princess Carol Ann Norling displays a tempting sample of the sights in store for visitors.

Schooners Set Social For Sept. 28

Everybody is invited when the Schooners Couples Club of Trinity Presbyterian Church holds its "Schooner Supper Social'" from 6 to 9 p.m. Sept. 28 in the church yard.

The party is being planned by the club as its fall fund-raising event to help meet its pledge to the church.

In addition to "barbecued-on-the-spot" hamburgers and other tempting food and drink, the committee promises entertainment in the form of a band concert, community sing, movies for the children and teen-agers, and surprises.

Members of the committee are Mr. and Mrs. Karl Johnson, barbecued hamburgers chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. Horace Ray, ice cream; Mr. and Mrs. Wib Jordan, homemade cakes; Mr. and Mrs. Dan Taylor, cold and hot drinks; Mr. and Mrs. Draper Jennings, tacos.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hurtig form the entertainment committee. George Sabin, Bud Gero and S. C. Deal will star in the band.

Members of the committee urge friends and neighbors of the church to make their plans to attend.

Garden Notes . . .

Some Citrus May Thrive In Center of California

New visitors to California seem to expect the entire state to be covered with groves of lush subtropical fruits. On the opposite side of the fence are many native Californians who erroneously think that oranges and other subtropical fruits may be raised only in Southern California. Both are rather extreme ideas; and both are equally wrong.

Your local nurseryman is the best authority on which subtropical fruits are best adaptable to your area. He will help you to select varieties which will yield fine fruit in your climatic region.

MOST SUBTROPICAL fruits naturally thrive throughout the Citrus Belt in Southern California, but many varieties can be rewardingly grown in other areas, such as the warm valleys near San Francisco Bay. The best example of this versatility is found in kumquats, tangerines and lemons. These three have proven most successful outside the Southern Citrus Belts. Equally hardy, and ornamental, but not yet so popular a subtropical fruit for the cooler areas of California is the Loquat, which features an early ripening fruit. Also suitable for cooler areas are the Guavas in several varieties, Olives and in some regions, Avocados.

Avocados have been successfully grown as far North as Chico. Once again, your nurseryman should be your final authority of your selection of subtropical fruit trees for your garden.

Your Health . . .

Some Drugs on Market Are Dangerous, Worthless

(Presented as a public service by the Foothill Branch of the Los Angeles County Medical Association)

In spite of all that has been done, there are still on the market today drugs and devices which informed sources—the medical profession, government authorities and reputable medicine manufacturers—agree should not be sold to the public for the purposes of self-medication.

These products may be grouped in one or more of the following classifications:

1. Drugs dangerous to health or life when used without proper supervision.
2. Remedies or devices worthless for the purposes for which they are offered.
3. Medicine offered for conditions for which drugs alone do not constitute competent treatment and where unwise self-treatment may permit the conditions to progress so far that the damage cannot be repaired.

FROM TIME to time, we hope to publish advice based on information supplied by specialists in the fields of therapy discussed.

Because a column of this kind cannot contain a complete outline of medical matters, it is limited to drugs, devices and some cosmetics which should be avoided or used with care.

BALDNESS — There is no known drug, preparation, device or method of treatment recognized as a cure, remedy or competent treatment for baldness; nor as capable of growing or aiding in the promotion of the growth of hair, preventing baldness, or feeding or nourishing the hair or scalp.

MOLE REMOVERS—Tampering with a mole may encourage it to develop into a dangerous growth; therefore, avoid advertised preparations. Only a skin specialist or physician should remove a mole.

EYELASH GROWERS—There is no known method or preparation which will promote the growth or increase the length of the eyelashes.

RHEUMATISM — Almost any condition producing aches and pains in the joints, nerves and muscles may be called "rheumatism" by the public. The causes are legion, and there is no single produce that is a cure, remedy or competent treatment for rheumatism. There are, however, a number of preparations which are useful in temporarily relieving muscular aches and pains.

WRINKLE REMOVERS — Wrinkles arise from a variety of causes, principally physiological changes which accompany the aging process. Emolient creams or lotions may aid in smoothing out facial lines caused solely by skin dryness or temporarily soften or postpone the appearance of lines or wrinkles.

There are, however, no known creams, lotions, peels, astringents, plasters or other products which will prevent, correct or remove wrinkles.

Necessity may be the mother of invention, but many of them turn out to be orphans.

Theories usually are all right until the time comes to make a practical demonstration.
